Re: Timothy J. Fast vs. Cash Depot, Ltd.
U.S. District Court Case No.: 16-CV-1637

Dear Attorney Walcheske:

Enclosed is a check in the amount of $13,333.35. This check represents payment of the costs and attorneys' fees incurred in advancing Mr. Fast's wage claim against Cash Depot. The payment is based on the interrogatory responses your office provided to us on July 14, 2017, wherein you represented that you had $402.35 in costs and $12,931 in attorneys' fees.

Please note that Cash Depot is making this payment despite the fact that you have failed to provide us with any type of backup documentation or details concerning the attorneys' fees, information we requested in our letter dated July 17, 2017. Without such information we are unable to assess the reasonableness of your attorneys' fees. However, as we have stated throughout this matter, we wish to avoid unnecessary legal fees and hence Cash Depot has elected to pay such fees and costs without assessing the reasonableness of the fees.

The enclosed payment, along with the previous payroll check we sent to you for the additional wages Schenck determined were owing to Mr. Fast, represents payment in full for the damages sustained by Mr. Fast, along with the liquidated damages and fees allowed for under the Fair Labor Standards Act.
